

In the swing with Bandit's 2150XP Grinder

Bandit has introduced their new model 2150XP self propelled stump cutter to the Australian market.

This rugged, compact stump grinder is the ideal machine for tree services, Councils, and rental companies looking for a dependable, self-propelled machine with the ultimate in manoeuvrability. The good news is that clever engineering and design changes mean that the cutter head now has a cutting swing of over 50" (127cm) wide without repositioning the machine; this is greater than 25% extra cutting width than the model it replaces, and the other machines in it's class.

Fitted standard with a strong Kohler Command PRO 38hp engine, this machine can narrow down to only 29" (73cm) wide for access to difficult jobs. The 2150XP tight turn unit features a hydraulic motor positioned above the steering assembly; this set-up allows the machine to manoeuvre and turn quicker than any other grinder in its class. All of these changes ensure that time spent travelling and positioning next to each stump is significantly reduced, increasing production, saving you time and money.

Other standard features include quick-release dual drive wheels (as pictured) for stability and traction on difficult sites; V belt drive to the cutter head so that drive belt replacements cost about half the usual price for the toothed polychain belts; variable travel speed so you can speed up to get to the stump fast or slow down to have great control when grinding; and variable cutter head swing speed.

A popular option for the Model 2150XP is radio remote control so that operators can control all grinder functions away from the dust and debris. Another bonus is that the Model 2150XP now features Tap & Turn GREENTEETH® so that replacing a full set of teeth can take less than 5 minutes. More time saved!
