

Bluey's invest in Bandit 2900 Track grinder

Bandit's Model 2900 Track grinder "is the best package on the market" according to Melbourne-based contractor, Paul Robinson from Bluey's Tree Removals.

Paul chose Bandit's "mean, green stumper machine" because it was the only grinder available with all the features he wanted on one machine; powerful 79hp engine, remote control and greater maneuverability.

"We get through jobs so much faster now with the 2900 Track machine. Previously we'd be on site for hours and now we're done by morning tea and ready to move onto the next job. It's an extremely efficient grinder," said Paul.

Bluey's Tree Removals recently won a major job from a logging contractor and needed a more substantial grinder to get the job done. "Bigger jobs need bigger machines and we've got the best of both worlds with this Bandit track grinder. The tracks give us really good access to stumps without the need for other equipment and teamed with the horsepower and remote control, no other machine comes close," Paul told us.

Bluey's Tree Removals are based in Melbourne's Ferntree Gully region and have been established for ten years.
